

Global Groove LAB

"Music can unite, something what human beings are not able to do on their own." - Indie News

"...extremely danceable & versatile sound..." - Planet.tt Magazin

"...a colorful musical firework!" - MICA

Breaking all the stylistic rules Global Groove LAB releases its debut album "I'm a Stranger". In their "LAB" they experiment with melodies, grooves and genres from around the world. Traditions combined with modern sound express the musical journey of the multicultural line-up of the band. Inspirations are coming from the Balkans, reggae, India, Africa, Latin America, rock, jazz and even classical music. The texts are critical of society, political, but also about the finer things in life.

All started as an experimental jam session led by Russian violinist Pavel Shalman. It involved musicians from Bulgaria, Morocco, Palestine, Romania, Nigeria, Macedonia, Tunisia, Bosnia, Brazil, Ukraine, Hungary, Turkey, India, Venezuela, Trinidad & Tobago and more, eventually leading to the formation of Global Groove LAB.

"Paper" – official video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aN6RRyCV7Jc>

"Global Cocek" - official video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZPh_AFGa3nY

Live video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rYpxKuBGrxo>

RONJA* (Austria) – vocals

Coalman (Nigeria) – vocals

Pavel Shalman (Russia/USA) – violin & concept

Bozidar "Boki" Radenkovic (Serbia) – accordion & bouzouki

Stefan Thaler (Austria/Slovenia) – bass

Martin Peham (Austria) – drums

Stavros Chilas (Greece) – guitar

www.globalgroovelab.com